

Last Temptation of Christ because the lawyers couldn't agree on the sequel rights....

"You got the job!"

The coolest thing you'll ever hear your agent say.

Seize this moment. Celebrate it. You have just accomplished something that presidents, popes, rocks stars dream of. You've been hired to direct.

The moment is perfection. It could easily be one of the key events of your life. It may be your first job. It may be your last. So savor this moment. Because you're about to enter a whole new ball game. You're about to commence the phase of production that dictates how all else will go. This set of tasks will set you and the show up for possible success if you do them well but almost certain failure if you don't. I speak of preproduction. Prep.
